

Fairfax County Police Department - Operations Support Bureau 2013 Citation Density by Road Segment

This map depicts the number of citations issued by the Fairfax County Police Department in 2013. The line thickness and color intensity increase as the number of issued citations increases on each segment of roadway.

Consistently since 2011, the number of citations issued by the Fairfax County Police Department on local roads totals approximately 42 percent of all issued citations. Also, the types of citations issued on local roads remains consistent in the following categories: speeding and reckless driving, 15%; moving violations¹, 43%; other violations², 42% (see Figures 1 and 2.).

Figure 1.

	LOCAL ROAD			Total
	2011	2012	2013
ALL OTHER CITATIONS	42.08%	41.74%	43.02%	42.28%
MOVING VIOLATIONS	42.69%	42.73%	42.09%	42.50%
SPEEDING & RECKLESS DRIVING	15.23%	15.53%	14.88%	15.21%
Total	100.00%	100.00%	100.00%	100.00%

Figure 2.

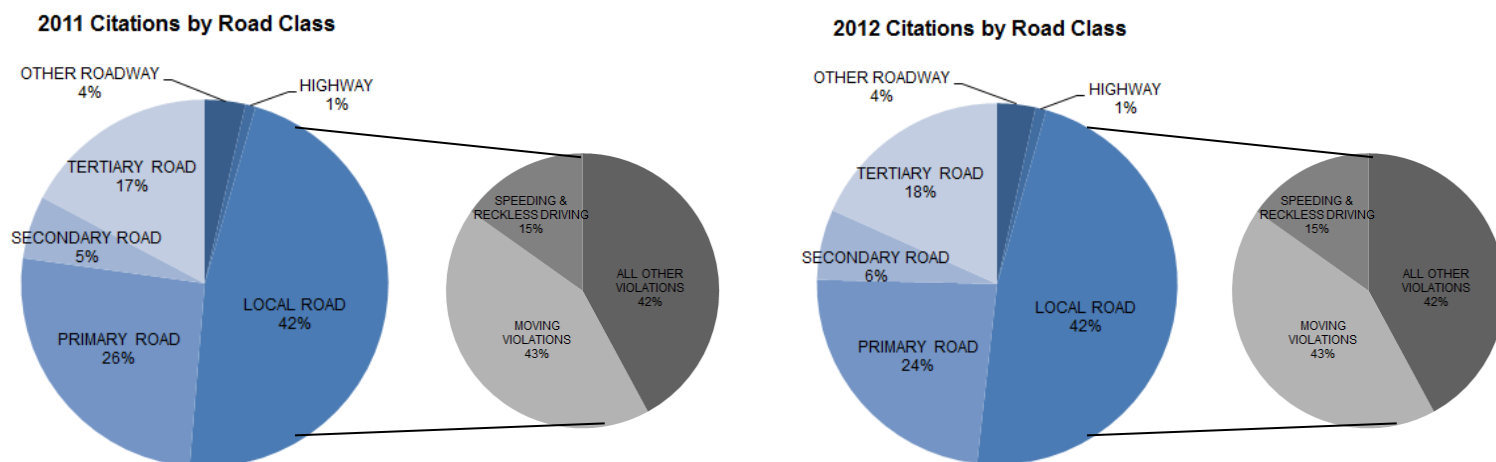

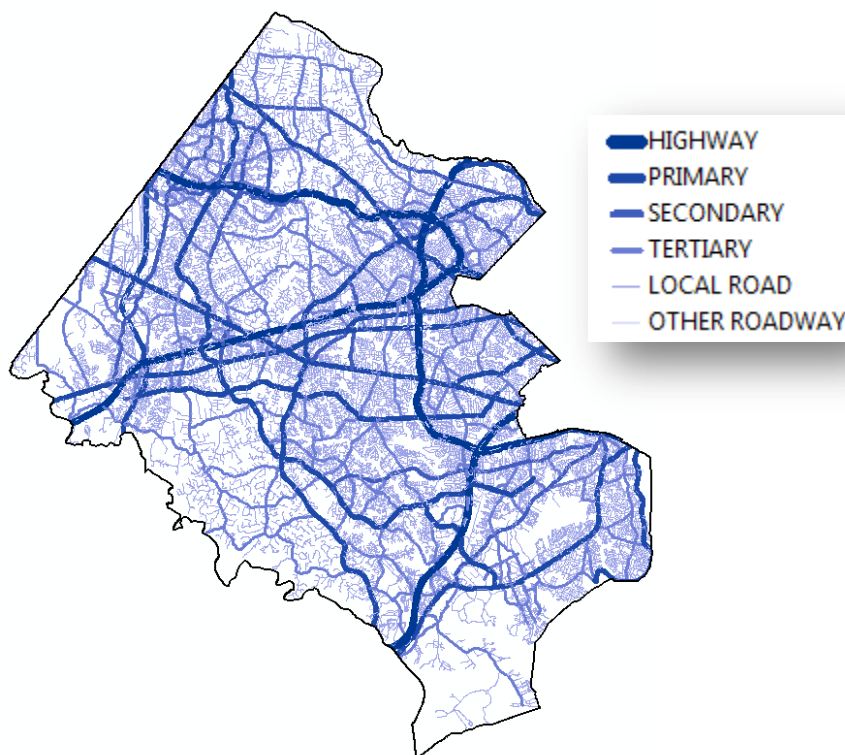

Figure 3.

This map depicts roadways in Fairfax County by the assigned road class. As the line increases in color intensity and thickness, the road is designated as a more heavily-travelled thoroughfare.³

¹ Moving violations include, but are not limited to, citations for failing to pay full time and attention, failing to stop at a traffic signal or sign, improper u-turns or lane changes and improper passing.

² Other violations include, but are not limited to, suspended/revoked driver's license, pedestrian violations (jaywalking) and equipment violations (broken tail light).

³ Other roadways include, but are not limited to, ramps, parking lots, elevated roads and driveways.