

EVALUATION TOOL 16:	THE EFFECTIVE LIFELONG LEARNING INVENTORY
OVERVIEW:	There is an online ELLI assessment, which we would need to pay for if we wanted to use it officially. We have, however, really easily developed our own ELLI measure that will provide us with learner maps like the one below (a blue line would be added to show the profile of each individual). This can be used to assess people, to inform coaching conversations and to measure distance travelled when used at the start and the end of a programme. The official ELLI version is more sophisticated and tailored for adults or young people., The questionnaire can be found below.
WHAT YOU WILL NEED:	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Assessment form • Pencils 	PREPARATION:	None
PROCESS:	Step 1: At the start of the programme, explain to the young people the purpose of an ELLI assessment, and what each of the terms seen below means. Step 2: Have each young person score themselves on a scale of 1–10 using the attached questionnaire and diagram. Step 3: This score can be used as the basis for a coaching conversation. You might ask what they have identified as their strengths and weaknesses, and why they think this. Step 4: At the end of the programme, repeat the exercise and compare the previous scores. Identify areas of growth.
ANALYSIS:	Using the data provided, Research Hub will create a 'before and after' profile for each young person.
PHOTO:
STRENGTHS:	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Highlights distance travelled • Development tool 	WEAKNESSES:	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Paper based