

Factorial design: research design that examines two or more influences on behavior.