

Multiple regression: statistical tool in which we use two or more predictor variables to forecast scores on an outcome variable.