

Line graph: graph used to depict the relationship between two scales variables.