

Negatively skewed distribution:
data distribution in which there are a few unusually low (skewed) scores; most scores tend to be toward the high end of the distribution.