

Figure 3.5

The Intelligence Budget: Four Phases Over Three Years

It takes about three years to develop a budget and then spend the money, beginning in March of any year and continuing until September two and a half years later. The figure shows the activity for each phase and the time during which it happens.

